

JULY REPORT

Nutrition Campaign organized at Barrackpore Project Area

During the month of July, a range of capacity-building, awareness, and community engagement initiatives were undertaken with a focus on strengthening livelihoods, nutrition, gender awareness, and women's empowerment.

The activities promoted knowledge of organic and natural farming practices through training and guidance from resource persons from KVK, while nutrition awareness and counselling sessions encouraged healthier practices at the household and community levels. Campaigns and awareness activities also addressed issues related to land rights and access for landless families, with particular attention to women's participation, decision-making, and access to resources.

These efforts created opportunities for women and community members to strengthen their knowledge, voice their concerns, and actively participate in initiatives promoting sustainable livelihoods, gender equality, and greater social and economic empowerment.
